

LAB ACTIVITIES OF SCIENCE (2024-25)

III

Month	Practical/Activity to be conducted
April	1. To identify different types of plants by morphological means. 2. To identify different parts of a plant by morphological means.
May	3. To observe the process of germination by the emergence of a structure (leaf). 4. To observe different patterns of leaves and identify parts of a leaf.
July	5. To make a diorama of a forest with the help of waste material. 6. To know about the life cycle of insects with the help of a chart.
August	7. To study about skeletal system by using the 3D model. 8. To understand the working of the digestive system and respiratory system. 9. To make a family chart.
October	10. To know about the food chain with the help of a well-labelled diagram. 11. To understand the change in the states of matter. 12. To make a diversity collage of the class.
November	13. Identification of different parts of birds and insects by morphology. 14. Classification of different organisms based on their eating habits.
December	15. To know more about friction by friction carts on different surfaces. 16. To understand the process of evaporation and condensation.